LOUISBURG, N. C., Nov. 27, 1890. The greatest religious revival that has ever been in Louisburg, is going on now, conducted by Evangelist Fife. The con gregations count up in the thousands, people from every section of the county are attending, a number of ministers are here, a large number of converts, and back-sliders reclaimed.

One liquor dealer (the largest in town), has been converted, and attends the services now with B.ble in hand and talks in the meetings.

To-day (Thanksgiving), the largest number present of any day yet, two train loads of people from Franklinton. At 4 o'clock this afternoon a praise and thanksgiving meeting was held and a collection taken up for the Orphan Asylums in the State amounting to $156 37. Such a time has never been witnessed in Louisburg. I will give particulars after the meeting closes.

lard came from Martin. The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States, with the sanction of both political parties, has made large appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors; and,

WHEREAS, Appropriations have been made and considerable work done towards improving the navigation of the Roanoke river; and,

WHEREAS, It seems to be the settled opinion of the most distinguished engineers that, in order to keep river channels open, it is necessary to construct dykes on both sides where needed, of sufficient height to prevent the overflow of the adjacent lands; therefore,

RESOLVED, 1. That a committee of five each from the counties of Halifax, Northamptou, Bertie and Martin be appointed to meet at Raleigh on the first day of the next session of the Legislature and present the views of this meet-

2 That the next Legislature of North Carolina be and is hereby requested to apply to the Congress of the United States, recommending to that body the passage of a law making improvement in the navigation of Roanoke river.

3. That it is the sense of this meeting that the improvement of said navigation Duplin would best be accomplished by deepening | Durham the channel of said river. 4. That the most effectual method of accomplishing these objects would be to banks of said river from Weldon as far Graham..... down the river as necessary. 5. That the Legi-lature of North Car-tioned upon the general government's undertaking the work. 6. That the Legislature request our Senators and Representatives in Congress to advocate a sufficient appropriation for the work. Upon the adoption of the resolutions

Miss Porter Injured By a Falling Pic-

Miss Porter, Art Teacher, at Greensboro Female College, formerly of Peace Institute (she was very popular in Raleigh), was painfully though not seriously hurt on Wednesday. The Record says :

The school had been called into the chapel for morning prayers, the teachers on the rostrum, when the large oil painting of the Cascade, which is not less than 3x5 feet, fell a distance of at least 15 feet. Had it fallen directly upon Miss Porter it would have no doubt been a fatal blow, as it struck an empty chair, completely crushing it. This chair was the one usually occupied by Miss Dowd, who fortunately was not in to prayers at this service, as is the custom. Miss Porter's hurt was from a rebound of the heavy frame, which made an ugly scalp wound, but did no serious injury to her skull. She is very comfortable to-day, and Dr. Beall, who was was called to dress the wound, does not apprehend any serious results.

BANNER PRESENTATION.

The Randolph Democracy Enjoy a Day Gloriously.

The Ashboro Courier has an interest ing account of the banner presentation on last Friday. During the campaign the ladies of Randolph county promised a handsome banner to the township making the greatest gains. Concord won it, and upon the presentation there was a big celebration at Farmer's Academy, the men, women and children being present, and all the leading citizen of Asheboro, and some of the Asheboro ladies gracing the occasion with their presence. The Courier says: Col. A. C. McAllister, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee precided, and introduced Miss May McAllister, who had been deputized to present the banner. Miss May came forward, escorted by her maids of honor, Misses Maggie Robbins and Lillie Burns, and in a neat speech presented the banner, in the name of the ladies of Randolph county in a very appropriate speech presented it to Dr. C. H. Lewis, who received it, and called upon Prof. Skeen to make the speech of acceptance. The banner was accepted with cheer upon cheer by the Democracy of Concord township. The banner is made of fine material. The front is of red silk with the following inscription in gold letters:
